INSTRUCTIONS FOR PETITIONS TO PROHIBIT WORKPLACE VIOLENCE

Under California law (Code of Civil Procedure section 527.8), courts can make orders to protect an employee from suffering unlawful violence or credible threats of violence. These orders can be requested by the employer of a person who is suffering unlawful violence or credible threats of violence, and will be enforced by law enforcement agencies.

The employer asking for these orders is called the "plaintiff." The plaintiff needs to file a petition in superior court, on behalf of his or her employee, against the other person ("defendant") to get these orders. There will be a court hearing within 15 days of the filing. The plaintiff can sometimes get a temporary court order against the defendant even before the hearing.

This instruction booklet tells what court orders an employer can get and how to get them. It also includes directions for a defendant who wants to oppose the employer's petition.

These instructions cannot cover all of the problems and questions that may arise in a particular case. If you do not know what to do to protect your rights, you should see an attorney.

Please note: These forms can be used only by an employer of a person who is suffering unlawful violence or a credible threat of violence. If anyone other than the employer wishes to apply to the court for an order prohibiting harassment, see the Judicial Council's Instructions for Lawsuits to Prohibit Civil Harassment (form CH-150).

Assistive listening systems, computer-assisted real-time captioning, or sign language interpreter services are available if you ask at least 5 days before the hearing. Contact the clerk's office for Request for Accommodations by Persons With Disabilities and Order (form MC-410). (Civil Code, § 54.8.)

GENERAL INFORMATION

Who can get a court order under this law?

This statute allows employers to obtain court orders prohibiting unlawful violence or credible threats of violence against their employees. The statute differs from other California laws that allow victims of unlawful violence or credible threats of violence to ask the court for these orders themselves. To get an order under this law, the plaintiff must be an employer. An employer is defined as the following:

- Every person engaged in any business or enterprise in this state that has one or more persons in service under any appointment, contract of hire, or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, irrespective of whether such person is the owner of the business or is operating on a concessionaire or other basis. (Lab. Code, § 350(a).)
- A federal, state, or local public agency; a city, county, district, or public corporation. (Code Civ. Proc., § 527.8(d).)

Before completing the forms needed to obtain court orders under this statute, make certain you meet the definition of "employer" as stated.

Whom can an employer protect under this law?

Under this statute, employers can obtain court orders which last up to 3 years on behalf of their employees only and up to 15 days on behalf of employees and certain family or household members. California law defines employees as:

- Every person, including aliens and minors, rendering actual service in any business for an employer, whether gratuitously or for wages or pay, and whether such wages or pay are measured by the standard of time, piece, task, commission, or other method of calculation and whether such service is rendered on a commission, concessionaire, or other basis. (Lab. Code, § 350(b).)
- · Members of boards of directors and public officers.
- Volunteers or independent contractors who perform services for the employer at the employer's work site.

An employer may seek protection under this law if:

- 1. An employee has suffered unlawful violence or a credible threat of violence from any individual;
- The unlawful violence or credible threat of violence can reasonably be construed to have been carried out in the workplace;
- The defendant's conduct is not allowable as part of a legitimate labor dispute as permitted by Code of Civil Procedure section 527.3; and
- 4. The defendant is not engaged in constitutionally protected activity.

What do you need to get the court orders or to object to them?

- Workplace violence forms, available from the court clerk's office or legal publishers. The clerk of the court can tell you where to get the forms. You can also obtain them on the California Courts Web site (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/forms). Fillable forms are available on the Web site.
- 2. Someone other than yourself, 18 years of age or older, to deliver (serve) certain papers to the other party.

What forms must be used for petitioning under the workplace violence law and for opposing those petitions?

- Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Petition] (form WV-100). This four-page form tells the judge the facts of the plaintiff's case and what orders the plaintiff wants the court to make. This form is mandatory, i.e., it must be used to petition for injunctive relief.
- Order to Show Cause [OSC] and Temporary Restraining Order [TRO] (form WV-120). The OSC, when signed by the judge, tells the defendant to come to court for the hearing. It may include one or more TROs that take effect immediately and stay in effect until the hearing.
- 3. Response to Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Response] (form WV-110). The defendant files this form to state objections to the orders the plaintiff has asked the court to make and to give his or her side. This form is mandatory, i.e., it must be used by defendants to respond to a petition.
- 4. Order After Hearing on Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Order] (form WV-140). This is the form signed by the court following the hearing. The order will stay in effect for up to three years depending on what the judge rules.
- Proof of Personal Service (form WV-130) and Proof of Service By Mail of Completed Response (form WV-131). These forms are used to show that the other party has been served with the legal documents as required by law.

Should you see a lawyer?

You have the right to file a petition or defend against one and to go to court with or without an attorney, unless you are a corporation in which case you must be represented by a lawyer. Because your situation may involve technical problems that cannot be explained in a printed form, you may want to consult with an attorney. Whether or not you have an attorney, the other party may have one.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PLAINTIFF

What steps need to be taken to get the court orders?

- You will need at least five copies of each workplace violence form: one for a worksheet, the original to file with the court, a copy to be personally delivered (served) to the defendant, and two copies for yourself. In addition, you will need extra copies of the OSC (form WV-120), the Order (form WV-120), and the Proof of Service (forms WV-130 and WV-131). Get at least three extra copies for yourself.
- Fill in the Petition (form WV-100), and fill in the OSC (form WV-120) except for the dates for the court hearing and service and the judge's signature.
 - a. If you are not represented by an attorney, fill in your name, mailing address, and phone number at the top of each form. You may, but are not required to, provide a fax number and an e-mail address where you may be contacted.
 - b. Fill in the name of the county where the case will be filed and the address of the superior court.
 - c. Type your full name, the defendant's full name, and the employee's full name. If you are seeking an order protecting more than one employee, you should fill out a separate set of forms for each employee to be protected. If you need more space, attach additional pages and refer to the additional pages in item 19 of the Petition form.
 - d. Check ("X") all boxes that apply to your case.
 Read each item carefully and fill in the necessary information. Be specific.
 - e. Remember to date and sign the Petition.
- 3. If you are applying for a TRO, you must give the details of the recent acts of violence or credible threats of violence and the problems they have caused your employee. Place an "X" in the caption of the Petition next to "Application for Temporary Restraining Order."

To obtain a TRO, you must notify the defendant of the application for the order unless both of the following requirements are satisfied:

 a. It appears from facts shown by affidavit, declaration, or verified complaint that great or irreparable injury will result before the matter can be heard on notice.

- b. You or your attorney certifies one of the following to the court under oath:
 - (1) That within a reasonable time prior to the petition you informed the defendant or the defendant's attorney at what time and where the petition would be made.
 - (2) That you in good faith attempted but were unable to inform the defendant and the defendant's attorney, specifying the efforts made to contact them.
 - (3) That for reasons specified you should not be required to so inform the defendant or the defendant's attorney.
- 4. If you are seeking court orders on the basis of information given to you by other persons (e.g., the affected employee or other employees), and not on the basis of what you have personally observed, you must attach to the Petition declarations or affidavits by the persons who have personal knowledge of the facts that support the granting of the order. You may use form MC-031 for the declarations.
- 5. Take all your completed forms and all copies to the clerk's office in the superior court. The clerk will tell you where to take your papers.
- 6. If the judge signs the OSC (form WV-120), take the original and all copies back to the court clerk. The clerk will stamp all the papers with a case number. The copies will be stamped with an "Endorsed-Filed" stamp (showing the date of filing), the judge's signature, and the date of signing. The clerk will file the originals and give you the copies. Ask for at least three endorsed-filed copies. Keep at least one for yourself and give the others to the employee and other persons, if any, who are to be protected. The copies may be needed if you have to call the police.
- 7. Have the defendant personally served with copies of the Petition (form WV-100) and the OSC (form WV-120), a blank Response (form WV-110), and a blank Proof of Service By Mail of Completed Response (form WV-131). You cannot serve the defendant yourself. Service may be made by a licensed process server, the sheriff's department, or any person 18 years of age or older, other than you.

Service is very important. It tells the defendant about the order and the hearing. Without it there will not be a court hearing and your temporary orders will no longer be good unless they are extended by the court. The defendant must be personally served immediately after the orders are signed by the judge, unless the court specifies a different time for service (see item 4a on the OSC).

WV-150-INFO [Rev. January 1, 2007] Page 3 of 12

- 8. If you have requested any temporary orders and the judge has granted them, get copies of the TRO stamped with an "Endorsed-Filed" stamp and immediately deliver an Endorsed-Filed copy of the TRO to each law enforcement agency (police, marshal, or sheriff's office) that you want to enforce the order.
- 9. After the defendant has been personally served, the person who served the defendant must complete and sign the original Proof of Personal Service (form WV-130). You should take the signed original and the copies back to the court clerk. The clerk will file the original and stamp "Endorsed-Filed" on the copies. Take one of the Endorsed-Filed copies to each of the law enforcement agencies where you filed your TRO. Keep three Endorsed-Filed copies for yourself.
- 10. Go to the court hearing with any evidence you might have. The Order (form WV-140) should be filled in and given to the judge for signing. If there are any witnesses to the defendant's conduct, they should also be there.
- 11. If the judge signs the Order (form WV-140), file the original with the clerk, get copies stamped with an "Endorsed-Filed" stamp, and immediately deliver copies to law enforcement agencies.

If the defendant was not present in court for the hearing, arrange to have the defendant personally served with a copy of the Order. File the completed Proof of Personal Service (form WV-130) with the court. Keep at least three copies for yourself. Give one copy to your employee, give one to any other protected person, and keep at least one for yourself.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE DEFENDANT

- If you are served with an Order to Show Cause (Workplace Violence) [OSC] (form WV-120) and a Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Petition] (form WV-100), you should promptly seek legal advice. If you have no attorney, the attorney's referral service of your local bar association may be of assistance.
- Read the papers served on you very carefully. The OSC tells you when to appear in court and may contain a temporary restraining order forbidding you from doing certain things. If you disobey the court's orders, criminal charges may be filed against you.
- If you wish to oppose the Petition, or make your own request for court orders, you must file a Response to Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Response] (form WV-110). These forms are available at the court clerk's office or at the California Courts Web site: www.courtinfo.ca.gov/forms.

In addition to the Response (form WV-110), you may file and serve declarations signed by persons who have personal knowledge of the facts. A declaration (form MC-031) is available from the clerk's office or on the California Courts Web site. If you do not know how to prepare a declaration, you should see an attorney. After you have filed the Response with the clerk of the court, a copy must be delivered personally or by mail to the plaintiff or the plaintiff's attorney.

You cannot serve the plaintiff yourself. The person who does serve your papers should complete and sign a Proof of Service By Mail of Completed Response (form WV-131). You should take the completed form back to the court clerk or bring it with you to the hearing.

 If you wish to oppose the Petition, in addition to filing a Response, you should be present at the hearing. If you have any witnesses, they must also be present.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE DEFENDANT

- If you are served with an Order to Show Cause (Workplace Violence) [OSC] (form WV-120) and a Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Petition] (form WV-100), you should promptly seek legal advice. If you have no attorney, the attorney's reference service of your local bar association may be of assistance.
- Read the papers served on you very carefully. The OSC tells you when to appear in court and may contain a temporary restraining order forbidding you from doing certain things. If you disobey the court's orders, criminal charges may be filed against you.
- 3. If you wish to oppose the Petition, or make your own request for court orders, you should file a Response to Petition of Employer for Injunction Prohibiting Violence or Threats of Violence Against Employee [Response] (form WV-110).

In addition to the Response, you may file and serve declarations signed by persons who have personal knowledge of the facts. A declaration form (form MC-031) is available from the clerk's office of the court shown on page one of this form. If you do not know how to prepare a declaration, you should see an attorney. After you have filed the Response with the clerk of the court, a copy must be delivered personally or by mail to the plaintiff or the plaintiff's attorney.

You cannot serve the plaintiff yourself. The person who serves the plaintiff should complete and sign a Proof of Service of Completed Response (Workplace Violence) (form WV-131). You should take the completed form back to the court clerk or bring it with you to the hearing.

- 4. If you wish to oppose the petition, in addition to filling a Response you should be present at the hearing. If you have any witnesses, they must also be present.
- 5. An instruction booklet entitled Instructions for Petitions to Prohibit Workplace Violence (form WV-150) is available from the clerk's office at the court shown on page one of this form.
